THE CONTEXT

The unprecedented challenges, today, describes aptly in VUCA, due to increasing competitiveness and changing digital, economic, demographic and social landscape is driving leaders to turn to new organisational models highlighting the networked nature of today's world of work. The work practices are changing, the workforce is changing, and it's more digital, more assertive, global, diverse and automation-savvy.

Moreover, in an age of disruption today, business and HR leaders have no option other than to revisit the process for how they organize, recruit, develop, manage, and engage the workforce of future. At the same time, business needs and demands are changing at an unprecedented speed, making it imperative for the organisation leaders to shape new platforms, tools and processes to ensure a sustainable, yet, a dynamic model of people & work practices that are in sync with the new ecosystem.

What does this mean for leaders? It's time to rethink career and talent models according to the new principles. How ready are the managers to attract, manage, and grow people in a network, rather than a hierarchy? So, now is the time to rethink, examine, explore the options and build a sustainable and effective model. Against this backdrop this 3-day program on "People Management: Emerging Issues & Evolving Practices" is aimed at addressing these issues/challenges thrown up at work places and to enable the participants to learn newer people engaging practices towards effective business performance.

ABOUT IMI

International Management Institute (IMI) is India's first corporate sponsored Business School founded in 1981 with the original campus in New Delhi. The corporate sponsors included RPG Enterprises (lead sponsor), ITC, Nestle, Tata Chemicals, British Oxygen, SAIL, and Williamson Magor. It was set up in collaboration with the then IMI Geneva, now IMD Lausanne. Subsequently two other campuses were set up in Kolkata (2010) and Bhubaneswar (2011). In the last several years, IMI New Delhi has been consistently ranked in the top 10-15 Business Schools in the country and among the top 5 private Business Schools. It is accredited by the UK based Association of MBAs (AMBA), one of the top three international accreditation bodies for Business Schools globally.

IMI New Delhi has global linkages with leading schools in Europe, North America, and Asia. The Institute currently offers the PGDM, PGDM-HRM, PGDM-Banking & Financial Services, Executive PGDM and FPM (doctoral program). In addition, it has built a vibrant Executive Education vertical offering training to management professionals from the corporate world. The Institute has been empaneled by the Government of India to train participants from developing countries under the International Technical & Economic Corporation (ITEC) program of the Ministry of External Affairs.

IMI New Delhi puts a strong focus on high quality research by its faculty leading to publications in international peer reviewed academic journals. Its faculty have PhDs from top international and national universities/institutes, with many of them also having significant corporate experience.
